The Sanitiser Sentinel is designed to attract passing people to the hand sanitiser or soap dispenser and encourage them to use it.

The Sanitiser Sentinel is a stand alone unit that is easily placed above or close to a hand sanitiser or soap dispenser.

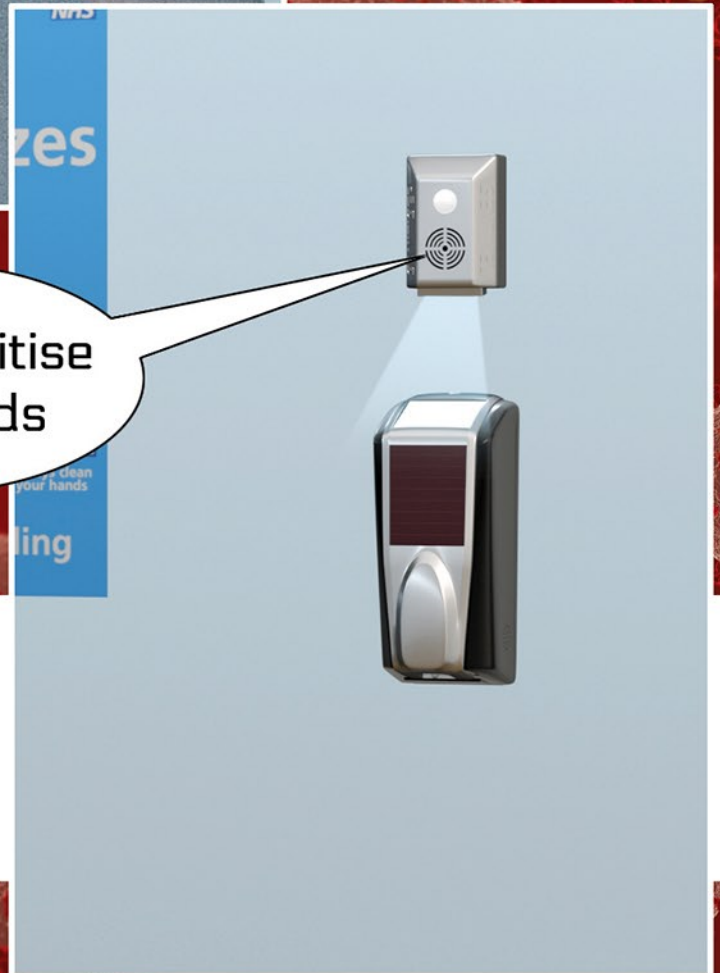

The Sentinel has a proximity sensor that will detect when a person comes within range of the hand sanitiser or soap dispenser, a light will flash and a recorded (selectable) voice message is played to remind the person to wash or sanitise their hands. The unit can be used to ensure that hand sanitisation and hand cleaning protocols are adhered to in any scenario and environment, without the need for staff to be present.

OPERATION

The Sentinel is activated when somebody walks within range of the proximity sensor

Please sanitise your hands

The voice recording is played and the LED light array flashes on the sanitiser dispenser to attract attention
